OUTCOMES OF CROWD MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

- The primary goal of the all law enforcement crowd response should be to protect individuals and their associated rights, including, but not limited to, those associated with assembly and free speech.
- Whenever possible, law enforcement agencies should attempt to make advance contact with event's organizers to gather information about the event to ensure accurate assignment of personnel and resources.
- An incident command system should be utilized in crowd management and civil disturbance to ensure control and unified command. In the United States, this may include the use of the National Incident Management System.
- Mass arrest in crowd situation should be avoided unless necessary.
