BRIEF SUMMARY

Report: Guest Lecture and Makar Sankranti Celebration
Organized by Women Empowerment Cell & IQAC
Raje Ramrao Mahavidyalaya, Jath

Objectives of the Program:

- To create awareness about physical and mental health issues specific to women.
- To educate young women on the importance of self-care, hygiene, and preventive healthcare.
- To guide participants about planning for a healthy and secure future—both personally and professionally.
- To encourage open discussion on challenges faced by women in modern society.

On the occasion of Vivekanand Jayanti Saptah and in celebration of Makar Sankranti, the Women Empowerment Cell and IQAC of Raje Ramrao Mahavidyalaya, Jath organized a Guest Lecture on “Women’s Health and Future”.

The program was graced by Dr. Sarita Pattanshetti as the Resource Speaker and Dr. Nirmala More as the Chief Guest. The lecture focused on promoting awareness about women’s health, self-care, and preparing for a secure future.

A total of 93 participants, including girl students and lady faculty members, actively participated in the event. As part of the cultural celebration, a traditional Haldi-Kumkum ceremony was held to mark Makar Sankranti, and each participant was gifted a plant, symbolizing care, growth, and environmental consciousness.

The program was conducted with the guidance and support of Principal Prof. (Dr.) S. S. Patil.

Introduction: Dr. Madhumati Shinde

Anchoring: Ms. Vaishali Madane

Vote of Thanks: Ms. Shilpa Patil

The event was successful in blending cultural values with health awareness and empowerment for women.
